WILD and NATURAL

Australian natives are the toughest botanicals on the planet. They are powerhouses of natural actives needed to combat extreme, unpredictable conditions. With an evolution of millions of years, Australian species are naturally designed to give your hair a fighting chance against dehydration, high temperatures, UVA and UVB exposure and more.

Need your hair to survive a hard day - we have selected native Australian extracts that can stand up to the challenge - protecting your hair from the environment the way nature has designed.

Australian Waratah Flower Extract Telopea speciosissima

What it is?

The king of flowers! It's all about the flower – with little leaves, it stands majestic on its sturdy stem. Nothing says Australia more than this botanical - big, bold, beautiful and complex. Its large, bright crimson head is actually hundreds of intricate and delicate individual small flowers densely packed together. Found in WA, the Waratah is more than our most iconic flower, it's a new discovery for Hair Care!

Why we love it – the BIG guns!

These small flowers deliver big results – plant amino acids for structure and repair, promoting healthy hair growth, smoothness / anti-frizz and overall improved condition.
